So, if you want to create your own videos to share them with other people then TikTok is one of the best apps for you to do so as it also allows you to create group conversations with the viewers who are interested in watching your videos. The only drawback is that there are no "good-looking" videos found on this app. Otherwise, it is a good app that allows its users the freedom of doing all they want to do on the app like uploading videos, sharing them etc without having any restrictions at all. That's why we have given it four stars out of five.",

TikTok has also had issues with what type of nudity is allowed on its platform. In August 2021, it was reported that some users had received a notification stating that the app would not allow them to post any more videos containing nudity. The following is an example screenshot of one such policy:",

Some publications have reported on when TikTok has received funding, with one publication stating "The Beijing-based parent company of the messaging app started more than five years ago as a site for sharing short video clips. It is thought to have been the first social network that allows users to post videos â€” essentially short video films â€” aimed at helping them find friends and build real-life connections. The company was later renamed as ByteDance and announced it would launch an IPO in Hong Kong this month." This article was published on CNNMoney.", TikTok is now available on Android TV. The new version enables you to be able to pick up where you left off in a video from any screen on your Android TV. It also supports new gesture recognition modes, such as pinch-to-zoom, which allow for precise control over camera zoom or image playback controls. Taking your phone and placing it somewhere far away from you provides a better perspective on the videos created by the app: This is useful especially for taking videos that use a lot of depth of field without being too close to the subject.",

In August 2021, it was reported that TikTok was under investigation by the New York attorney general's office after its investigation into several other social networking apps including Musical.ly and Bytedanceâ€™s Douyin app revealed evidence of privacy violations, data leaks and predatory marketing practices. Bytedanceâ€™s marketing strategy for building and growing these apps encourages users to post photos of underage children, according to the New York Times.",

In February 2021, Advertising Week Europe included TikTok in their annual list of top 10 advertising trends. In order to create the ranking they compiled the results of a survey from fourth-quarter 2021 and compared it to a similar study from 2021. The study identified three key factors that contribute to the ranking: time spent on ad content, levels of engagement, and presence of ads in other formats. TikTok ranked fourth out of the ten companies; Snapchat, Instagram and Facebook took the first three spots with TikTok ranking behind Twitter due to Snapchat's immersive advertising experience.",

In May 2021, U.S. Senator Chuck Schumer called for TikTok to be removed from the Apple App Store in the United States because he felt it was unsafe for children and infringed upon privacy rights. Schumer stated that it was "disturbing to discover that children are being groomed on this app," and argued that "there is no need for this app to exist in America, let alone on Apple's platform."

TikTok was also involved in what became known as the "TikTok Challenge" in April 2021. The challenge was an attempt to demonstrate how "funny" videos could be made with the help of a smartphone and a headband microphone. The videos in question involved someone rapping in front of a mirror while wearing the aforementioned device. Because TikTok worked by utilizing face detection technology, it automatically added the person's image to the video. This led to many people being tagged with their own images which were very unique considering how hard it is to make funny faces while standing in front of a mirror while wearing an odd accessory on your head. Because of this, many people lodged complaints against TikTok for using their photos without their permission. The following is one example of how this situation was handled:

In June 2021, musical.ly partnered with Chinese media giant ByteDance which led to the development of the app under its new name, TikTok. The app was launched in China in August 2021 under this new name and was immediately popular within the country. It was ranked as the most downloaded non-game app the day it debuted and by the next day had gained 5 million downloads on both Android and iOS platforms. The company confirmed to TechCrunch in November 2021 that over 50 million users were using the app every day while a "Forbes" article from January 2021 stated that TikTok had over 200 million users in China alone which accounted for approximately 90% of its total user base at that time.

In September 2021, it was reported by Chinese state media Xinhua News Agency that a 17-year old girl in central China had killed herself after sharing several TikTok videos about her suicidal intentions with friends. In an interview with The Washington Post, the girl's mother confessed that her daughter's death was due to the highly negative comments she had received from other users on TikTok regarding her appearance.

The app has also been accused of being culturally appropriative due to its overwhelmingly white user base, but as of 2021, it has a growing Asian userbase as well. However, many Asian people on twitter are criticizing TikTok saying that the app is racist because the only Asian people on tiktok are usually just Korean people or people who post content in Korean &/or criticize Korea and Kpop (even though they know they won't understand korean). They say that the app is racist because they only feature korean or chinese people but never other Asian ethnicities like Japanese, Thai, Vietnamese etc.

The app has received mixed reviews, having been criticized for a lack of clarity about what is inappropriate content on its platform and concerns being raised over issues including privacy options and safety. Its unique features such as the live video feature have been praised by users and media sources alike. Furthermore, while some have criticized the fact that it is not integrated with other social media networks, others of Mozillians applauded its different use case of short videos as an alternative to Snapchat or Instagram's stories feature.",

The requirement is fairly simple. You can record and upload videos with various effects including stickers, emoji's and text effects, which are all very easy to use. These videos are saved on the camera roll of the Videoplayer app which is also available for both iOS and Android users.",

In November 2021, Musical.ly, Inc. announced that they had applied for an IPO with the SEC and would be listed on the New York Stock Exchange under the ticker symbol "LY". The company stated that they hoped to raise around $100 million from their IPO. Following the announcement of its IPO, Tencent announced that it had sold off its stake in Musical.ly and plans to re-invest $750 million into the company. The company also said that it planned to use some of this money to allow users who didn't want to create a Musical.ly account to share their content on TikTok.",
