In August 2021, it was reported that Nike had entered into an agreement with the app to produce sponsored videos for its Fly shoe line. The deal, which was signed in May of that year, will see Nike create content in exchange for TikTok users creating content specifically related to the brand.",

The original founders view themselves as being able to build something that will help people through their day. With this goal in mind, they developed a standalone app which focusses on short-form video. The initial idea for the app came from a project called Vine, owned by Twitter. In an interview with the Los Angeles Times in November 2021, co-founder and CEO of Twitter Jack Dorsey said he was focusing on creativity at the company: "We want to look at every part of our service that enables people to express themselves. We believe it's better for the world if more people are expressing themselves." Evan Spiegel then took this idea and turned it into a company called "Tiktok".", TikTok allows you to share your video's with your friends, relatives and fans through various social platforms like Facebook, Twitter and Instagram. The videos are easily shared with any friend or group of friends by sending a direct link or QR code to them in a matter of seconds. In addition, you can also add music to the videos which are saved in your device. The app also allows you to create and join group conversations on TikTok. As part of an effort to clamp down on inappropriate content posted on TikTok, the app introduced a new ban system in January 2021 that forces users to nominate three specific features before they can upload a video and prevent others from uploading those contents as well. The feature has been criticized for a lack of clarity about what qualifies as inappropriate content in its community guidelines.",

In an article published by a publication based in Hong Kong, it was alleged that "TikTok has been repeatedly criticised by parents over the past couple of months for its confusing age verification policy. After the app was downloaded into thousands of Hong Kong children's hands, the police received more than 1,500 complaints about cyber bullying." This article was published on South China Morning Post.",

On February 16, 2021, Musical.ly filed another lawsuit in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York against Snapchat as well as its parent company Snap Inc., alleging that these companies had falsely claimed in advertising materials that they had no similar patents-related claims against AppsFlyer Technologies (which provides analytics services for app developers). In this lawsuit, Musical.ly claimed that Snapchat had infringed on four patents including US Patent Nos. 8,426,604 and 9,446,633 from a 2021 patent application by AppsFlyer Technologies for real-time engagement analytics for mobile applications; it also claimed that Snapchat had violated US Patent Nos. 6,192,977 and 8,526,721 which AppsFlyer had assigned to Snapchat in 2021. In addition to compensation for damages from these related claims, Musical.ly sought injunctive relief requiring Snapchat and Snap Inc. to withdraw its advertising materials.",

As of November 2021, the app's average daily active user base was 200 million, with an additional 100 million non-active users. Tiktok FYP has been translated into English, Korean, Spanish, Russian and Vietnamese. Tiktok FYP has been featured on local television stations including Houston ABC affiliate KTRK, CNN Money, MTV India and various newspapers (i.e., The New York Times) around the world. In an article published by Tech Crunch, it was alleged that "Xinhua also noted that Bytedance had announced plans to develop a "social credit system" based on its AI capabilities in 2021. It was part of a larger trend for Chinese tech companies to apply AI to social credit scores. For example, Ant Financial's Sesame Credit uses data from one's Alibaba profile to create a credit score for users." This article was published on Tech Crunch. In an article published by The Verge, it was alleged that "A lot of that AI hype has been around China's tech companies, which have been loudly touting their AI capabilities to justify valuations that are 30 to 50 times higher than the next biggest tech firm in the US." This article was published on The Verge. In an article published by Tech Crunch, it was alleged that "Bytedance is also rumored to be working with a variety of Chinese government agencies. In addition to state-owned banks and media companies, Bytedance has partnered with social media sites WeChat and Tencent on its news aggregator Jinri Toutiao, and inked deals with the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology for speech recognition software. Another deal with China's railway ministry is reportedly pending." This article was published on Tech Crunch.",

Although TikTok's founders are Chinese and they launched their Chinese version first, the app is a global phenomenon. According to Play Store Google Analytics data from December 2021, the app is used in 173 countries and can be downloaded in 43 different languages. It was reported that half of TikTok's users are aged between 17-24 (51%) while 73% of all users are female. It is most popular in India over Facebook, Instagram, Netflix and WhatsApp.",

TikTok was created by the Chinese company ByteDance Inc. The app is known as Douyin in China and TikTok around the world. TikTok is a Musical.ly type app and has no relationship with Musically unfortunately. This app may be a Musical.ly copycat, but it has tons of features that Musical.ly doesn't have such as live-streaming and a unique feature where it allows users to send their video to Instagram so it plays there on the newsfeed instead of just in your messages! The music that is played in most people's videos are from YouTube which is free for any artist or record label to use, unlike Musical.ly. It is owned by ByteDance Inc which is a Chinese company located in Shanghai that has been around since 2012 and was bought by ByteDance LLC in 2018.",

Another article published on Forbes reported that "The idea that the app actively shares users' personal information with third parties is also false. TikTok's privacy policy clearly states they collect users' emails and phone numbers for internal purposes only, including contact info for users who have created a TikTok account. Additionally, the company uses those email addresses and phone numbers to remarket content through its third-party ad network partners and serve non-personalized ads based on information from other platforms where users have logged in with their official email address or phone number. The app also posts user-generated content and user interactions with the content to its social graph.",
